Preserving Place - Sharing the Legacy

With the advent of a recent proposal to establish the Camp Hale-Continental Divide National Monument, the 10th Mountain Division Foundation could soon be positioned to raise awareness of the lesser known story of the World War II 10th Mountain Division and their influence on the outdoor recreation industry in our country. This Monument would leverage opportunities for the Foundation to engage with the general public through robust interpretation and education programming to tell this lesser known military story and share the continuing story of the 10th Mountain Division (LI) of today. At the same time, the significance of this designation would add relevance and value to the Foundation’s efforts to advance the 10th legacy through the delivery of mission-based programs that will inspire new careers and legacies in both the military and outdoor recreation industries.

In recognizing this opportunity, I asked the President to consider the following:
“Mr. President: Your action to establish the Camp Hale-Continental Divide National Monument will leverage positive educational, cultural and economic impact within Colorado and throughout the country.”
